

Moebius Noodles Media Release

We use photos and other documentary media to tell stories that inspire families and educators to form their own Math Circles, organize events, connect with one another, and help children learn.

Please list the names of all participating family members, including you:

Please sign if you agree to this statement:

I grant permission to Moebius Noodles to use stories, photographs and videos of the math activities where my children and I participate, in paper or electronic publications such as books, TV shows and web sites. I agree to release Moebius Noodles or its partners distributing the finished product from any liability related to the use of the media. I waive any right to royalties arising from the use of the media. I am the parent or legal guardian of the above named child(ren).
